What's the first thing you notice about a woman?

It's always a mixture of looks and personality, for me: A nice smile goes a long way, or beautiful eyes—and if she has a great personality and sense of humour too, that's a winner.

You're fluent in Arabic (and speak four other languages!)—are there any skills that you find really attractive in a woman?

I like someone who doesn't adhere to the status quo—I find it very inspiring when someone has done things that are quite different, or that I can learn from, be it cooking, other languages, or musical skills, such as singing or playing an instrument.

What do you think is the secret to a successful relationship?

Understanding and compromise—everyone says that, but I don't think a lot of people apply it. You also need to keep things exciting in every aspect—surprise your partner once in a while, and make sure there's constant fun and changes, in a way where you can grow together.

As a professional funny guy, how important is it to you that a woman has a good sense of humour?

It is important that she understands my humour—she doesn't need to be a comedian or anything, but mainly she just needs to be light-hearted and have a strong sense of fun. I'm silly 24/7, and when I'm with someone I like to show her off to people so they can see what a wonderful girl I have by my side.

What's your idea of the perfect date?

I like dates that are full days—maybe meet in the afternoon, then go watch a show or head to a museum, enjoy a beautiful dinner, then go for a long walk at a park or the beach, for instance. It gives you the chance to really get to know each other properly and find out if you truly click.
