

TrueColours

Want to achieve your most perfect skin ever? The secret could be held in the rainbow. Here's our simple guide to colour correction for your best skin yet.

By Yi-Hwa Hanna

Contouring isn't the only way to use colour to perfect your skin...

Achieving beautifully neutral skin is easier than you think. Whether it's redness or dull, grey skin you need to combat, here are some of our favourite colour-correcting products to help get you started. Then turn to the next page to find out what shade you need to fix which problem at-a-glance.

Make Up For Ever Correcting Primers

Erborian CC Crème

Smashbox Colour Correcting Sticks

Yves Saint Laurent Touche Éclat Neutralizers

Becca Backlight Targeted Colour Correctors

Marc Jacobs Beauty Cover(t) Stick Color Correctors

Urban Decay Naked Skin Color Correcting Fluids

Cover FX Correct Clicks

Lancôme Miracle CC Cushion Color Correcting Primers

We all know it by now—if you want to neutralise that big red spot that mysteriously appeared during the night, you’ve just got to stick a little green concealer on it. Didn’t know that? Ok, well now you do. But that clever route to a neutralised skin tone isn’t the only go-to you can add to your skintone arsenal: Nope, nowadays there’s a whole host of colour-related skincare solutions that can help make sure that before you even get to choosing what kind of primer you want, let alone your foundation, you can neutralise issues ranging from dull skin to dark under-eye circles, to brown spots and even a purpley sallow tinge to your skin on the days you wake up feeling a little extra tender. And the best part? We’ve teamed up with the experts at Sephora Middle East to bring you this handy colour wheel that will help you figure out what to put, where, and at a glance. You’re welcome!

